-We acknowledge the courtesy of an invitation from the Faculty of Roanoke, Va., to attend the commencement Exercises June 13th 1883. We note that the valedictory address will be delivered by Mr. Perry R. Nugent, of Louisiana, nephew of our neighbor, W. L. Nugent,

We notice that our young townsman, John H. Boyd will participate in the first annual contest of the Tennessee Inter collegial Oratorical Association at the Capitol in Nashville, 25th, inst. Five Universities will be represented by nine contestants. Mr. Boyd will represent the Stewart Society of Southwestern Presbyterian University Clarksville.

-Last Wednesday was a bright day for the belles and beaus of Jackson. Ever considerate of their pleasures, Mrs. W. H. H. Green and Mrs. James McKee, devised and carried into execution a pienic festival in which a numerous party participated. Our neighbor of the Ledger and New Mississippian have anticipated us in giving full particulars.

-Our people were on the lookout for a hail storm Sunday and Monday-the recent sudden change in the temperature indicating severe atmospheric changes to the north of us.

-Since writing the above we learn that a point north of us was visited by a hailstorm on Sunday last.

-The colored school exhibition at Benevolent Hall on Friday night last open-ed under fair auspices. The house was crowded to its utmost capacity, and but three or four scenes had been rendered when the stage gave way. This stopped the entertainment, but the managers repeated the exhibition at the Opera House last night. The exhibition Friday night was a credit to the colored Pire school teachers of our city, and the one last night was, we are glad to say, fully up to it. Everything passed off pleasantly, and the house was crowded.

The new Illinois Central Railroad Freight Depot, now in course of construction, located south of the old depot will be 200 x 40 feet, one story in height, built of brick with iron finish and slate roof. It will be a freight depot exclusively, tracks running on either side. The foundation is laid and the walls are steadily going up. The building when finished will be an ornament to that portion of our city. The plan was furnished by Mr. Noquet, the architect of the I. C. R. R. Co., and the work is being done by the company.
